

Tirrenica main line and Pontremolese Command and Control System

Description

The project contemplates a technological upgrade of the main Tirrenica Nord line via construction of a modern remote-control system for all the facilities on the Genoa-Rome line, extended to the Pontremolese line, from Pisa central control point.

